

I am writing to you in regards to the entrance of Low Power FM (LPFM) to the air wave space in the Phoenix, Arizona area. There are many fine FM stations in this area. My husband listens to classical music on FM. I listen to K-Love radio on FM. K-Love is Positive and Encouraging (their slogan) music. There is much in this world that is neither. Whatever would replace this station would probably not be. This station, and this station on other FM translators all over the country, needs to remain on the air. It is a listener-supported network, and as such does not have commercials. To raise that much money on a yearly basis to maintain operation means there are a lot of people this radio station impacts, and a lot of people who want it to remain on the air in their local area. My local area is Phoenix, Arizona. I support K-Love. It is spreading good news to this area, and we desperately need it here. As all over. Much in this world is negative. Let's not take something positive and force it off the air.

Thank you for your consideration of this.

Eva Fowler